Diversity and Gender

The decentralized Women's and Equal Opportunity Office of the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences gives advice concerning the following topics:

- support of the faculty in gender issues
- interface for the promotion and advancement of girls and women, e.g. mentoring programs
- support within recruitment procedures
- advice on questions concerning the compatibility of family and studies or family and profession
- conflict consultation for women in an academic environment

Equal opportunities for all gender, equality as an important foundation in science, reduction of discrimination and a culture of appreciation of diversity, these are the goals of gender equality work and key features of the University of Kassel.

The development and consultation of concepts and measures that promote the integration of gender equality aspects in science, university, teaching and studies are an important part of our tasks, as well. The faculty's women's officer works in close cooperation with the central officer for gender issues, the women's council and the commission of gender equality.
