The Wortreich Museum in Bad Hersfeld is a new museum dedicated to language and communication. Here you can participate, marvel, try out and learn a lot about language(s) and what we can do with words.

In addition to visiting the museum together we experience in an interactive tour how language is associated with appreciation and respect.

If you have children, you are welcome to bring them with you - the museum is 100% family-friendly and great fun for children over 5 years old. Afterwards we will have a snack together in the small old town and finally drive back to Kassel around 5/6 pm.

For all registered participants, the costs of admission and the guided tour will be covered.

Kind regards

Agnes Cison and
Alexandra Toman
